FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Four young Army recruits undergoing basic training died violently as a bolt of lightning struck a tree and ricocheted into a group of soldiers at a remote rifle range in the sprawling Ft. Benning military reservation.

Fifteen other soldiers were injured and taken to Martin Army Hospital Friday.

The victims were identified late Friday night by the base PIO as: Melvin C. White, Jr., 18, of Macon, Ga.; James E. Whitaker, 20, New Paltz, N.Y.; Billy G. Casebolt 17, of Ford's Branch, Ky., and Donald Dinardo, 18, of Pittsburgh, Pa. They were pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

None of the 15 soldiers admitted to the hospital is believed to be seriously injured, the PIO said.

The group of about 20 soldiers was receiving instruction in rifle training when a sudden summer thunderstorm came up. The recruits suspended the training and were seeking shelter when the bolt splintered the tree and ricocheted into their midst.

Officers and noncommissioned officers in the field immediately began to administer first aid and artificial respiration to the stricken men. A rescue squad dispatched by helicopter reached the scene approximately 15 minutes later.

Helicopters flew the most seriously injured men to the hospital, and trucks at the scene transported those who had been merely grazed by the bolt.

Capt. A. C. Mitchell, 2nd Division information officer, said the men were awaiting their turn to fire on the Jacelin-Hendrich rifle range, when the storm swept over the northeast sector of the post.

He said the men were ordered to put on their raincoats and take cover, but the lightning came very suddenly, Mitchell said.

The recruits were members of the 9th Infantry, 2nd Infantry Division.

There have been several cases in recent years of lightning striking soldiers training at Ft. Benning which is just outside of Columbus in southwest Georgia.

Walther Takes a Dim View

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski Rep. Glenn Walther today took a dim view of suggestions that part of the state's revenue stabilization reserve fund be used for emergency construction.

Walther said the fund—now $8.6 million — is needed to insure smooth operation of state agencies despite fluctuations in revenue from month to month.

The treasurer dips into the reserve fund in those months when tax collections fall below the average monthly expenses of $4.1 million. The fund is set by law at one-twelfth the expected annual revenue.

Walther said figures furnished him by the comptroller's office show the fund is tapped an average of eight times a year for amounts ranging from $386,000 to $2.6 million.

Revenue collections vary from about $5.5 million in December to $14 million in May, Saline Rep. Virgil Fletcher is among those who have suggested use of the stabilization fund.

No Comment About Accent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles Laughton, getting ready to play the role of a Southern senator in the motion picture "Advise and Consent," was an intent spectator in the Senate gallery Friday.

He told a reporter that in addition to soaking up Senate atmosphere he came here looking for the kind of Southern accent he thought he should use, and he said he had found it, too.

But Laughton declined to say which senator has the accent he will imitate.

This Turned Out to Be Cruel Joke

SMACKOVER, Ark. (AP) — Someone played a cruel joke on Mrs. Charles Vinson of Smackover yesterday.

Mrs. Vinson answered a long distance telephone call and heard a man's voice say, "Are you Nancy Cathey's mother?"

Mrs. Vinson said she was and the voice said, "Your daughter's dead."

Mrs. Vinson fainted. When she revived, the phone was dead.

The call came at 5:15 p.m. Mrs. Vinson knew only that her daughter and her husband, Lynn Cathey, were on route from Ellenwood, Kan., to their new home in West Bend, Wis., and she could think only that there had been a traffic accident.

Through a hurried night she tried to contact her daughter. Catheys were traveling in a conveyance with other employees of the Williams Pressure Service, Inc., which was moving from Ellenwood to West Bend.

Sheriff O. E. Bishop, working through law officers in states along the route, and the El Dorado Daily News, working along the route, and the El Dorado Daily News, working through the Associated Press, tried to help.

A company official finally located the conveyance today in Dickeyville, Wis. Mrs. Cathey called her mother at 8:15 a.m. to say she was not hurt.

Officers had little hope of locating the source of the call, which may or may not have been long distance.

Warns East Germans in Berlin

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — East Berlin's Communist government issued a warning today to the 50,000 East Berliners who work in West Berlin that they must obey Communist law. They also were told they have no right to new housing in East Berlin.

Hundreds of trains go back and forth every day on a dozen subway and elevated lines. Most auto drivers are checked only briefly at the sector border, and pedestrians hardly at all.

But lately there have been reports that the Communist authorities were planning action against the border crossers. The Communists want to turn West Berlin into an isolated "free city." The West maintains that all Berlin is a single city under the rule of the United States, Soviet Union, France and Britain.

Today the Communist city government of East Berlin announced some of its citizens have been complaining about those who work in the West. The charge was that they have "let themselves be hired away by capitalist enterprises in West Berlin."

This is the same thing the Red authorities said, as supporting Communist enemies in West Germany.

The statement recalled a law that requires all East Berliners to tell the authorities where they work. Officials were instructed to remind people who have violated it. The reference may have been to some East Berliners who take jobs in West Berlin without registering, to avoid getting part of their pay in Communist currency.

East Berliners who are assigned new apartments and then take jobs in West Berlin were singled out for criticism. Some of them, the East Berlin city government said, "abused the generous housing policy of the German Democratic Republic" and been thrown out of their homes. Their attempts to get back in were being turned down, it added.

Karl Maron, the East German interior minister, earlier had announced he would oust the U.S. radio station RIAS from Berlin.

JFK Advisers Are Again Pushed Aside

WASHINGTON (AP) — Omission of the Joint Chiefs of Staff from a conference today on the Berlin and German problems raises anew the question of whether they are being pushed into second place as President Kennedy's military advisers.

Kennedy arranged to confer at his Cape Cod home with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, recently named Kennedy's personal military representative.

Normally, it might be expected that the military chiefs, or at least Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, their chairman, would be included in such a high level conference.

However, the White House view was understood to be that this is just one of a series of meetings on the Berlin crisis, that such meetings do not always include representatives of the JCS.

Sources familiar with Lemnitzer's thinking disputed a suggestion that omission of the military chiefs or Lemnitzer means they are being brushed aside in favor of Taylor, an outspoken critic of the JCS system.

These sources said the President is aware of the joint chiefs' views on possible military measures in the Berlin situation. They noted that Lemnitzer sat in on the recent National Security Council meeting at which possible steps for dealing with the renewed Soviet threat were discussed.

ALC Likely to Plan Session

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he probably would leave up to the Legislative Council the planning of a special legislative session.

Although the session has been mentioned mainly as one to deal with emergency construction at state institutions, the announcement indicated that all agencies covered in a now-voided omnibus spending act would be given another opportunity to ask for funds.

Advisers, JFK to Discuss Berlin Crisis

By KARL BAUMAN

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy began a second summer weekend today at his vacation home on the shore of Nantucket Sound with a discussion on Germany and Berlin with three of his top diplomatic and military advisers.

Kennedy's chief press spokesman said the meeting should not be considered "either a crisis or an emergency meeting."

Rather, said Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, it is one of a continuing series of meetings on Germany and Berlin.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the President's military representative, will meet with Kennedy both ashore and afloat.

After conferring for about an hour at Kennedy's summer home, they were to board the cabin cruiser Marlin for lunch and further talks expected to last until mid-afternoon.

Salinger said today's conference had no bearing on the reply of the Western Big Four powers to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's latest pronouncements on Berlin.

The reply, Salinger noted, already has been drafted. It is being sent to Paris for a final check-over by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization before being sent to Moscow, probably late next week.

Khrushchev has declared he intends to sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany at the end of this year. This is viewed by the United States and its allies as a move to oust the Western powers from Berlin.

The Western powers reportedly will reiterate their firm stand on their rights to West Berlin, but at the same time leave the door open for further negotiations.

Kennedy flew here Friday for the weekend on Cape Cod. Mrs. Kennedy and the two Kennedy children, Caroline, 3, and John Jr., 7 months old, already were here.

Kennedy expects to remain here until Monday morning. Mrs. Kennedy will accompany him back to the capital, but the children are expected to remain for most of the summer.

UAW Wants to Create More Jobs

By DWIGHT PITKIN

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union today presented General Motors Corp. an eight-point proposal to create more jobs by reducing work time.

The union said it was open-minded on its shorter work week proposal and, in effect, told the company it could take its choice in the multipoint program.

"We are prepared to explore any additional approaches that management may suggest," the union said. "We are, however, determined to find an answer to the insecurity and unemployment which has victimized our members and their families."

The union proposed: Reduction of the work week without loss in pay; reduction of the work day without loss in pay; reduction of the work year without loss in pay; longer vacations; more paid holidays; industrial sabbaticals—a whole year off with pay every few years; earlier retirement, and a restriction of overtime.

The union also submitted two other statements. One charged that supervisory personnel were violating the current contract by doing production work. The other claimed that the contract also was violated by the company employing students in its training program and using them to do work that should be done by UAW members.

At Ford the union presented proposals to put hourly workers on salaries, improve the supplemental unemployment compensation plan and improve separation pay provisions of the contract. The proposals were the same as those given GM last week.

General Motors' negotiations opened first, a day ahead of Ford and two days ahead of Chrysler last week and the union apparently is adhering to a similar timetable at each company. Thus GM has been getting the proposals first.

American Motors Corp. appeared ready today to play an aggressive role in contract negotiations in the auto industry.

Inquiring Reported Asks Citizens What They Think They Can Do for Our Country

By Mary Anita Laseter

In John F. Kennedy's Presidential Inauguration speech he said that an American should "ask what you can do for your country." NOT what your country can do for you. What do you as an American citizen think is the principal thing we can do for our country? Your Inquiring Reporter asked this of several local citizens and here is what they said.

Sgt. Claude Byrd, administrative and supply technician for the local National Guard Unit: "Put our trust in the Lord. Protect and help our people at home before we protect and help people abroad."

Judge Harry J. Lemley, retired federal judge: "Quit trying to re-condition our country. Maintain states rights with a 'let alone' policy by the federal government."

Mrs. William Roulton, mother of two: "Teach our children the meaning of our American heritage so that we might instill a greater pride and respect for our traditions."

Hervey Hoff, local businessman: "Be a faithful Christian."

Mrs. E. L. Archer, mother and grandmother: "Live a better personal life. By precept and example we can influence others throughout the world."

Mrs. Eugene Jines, mother and teacher: "Have religious training in the home, for that will not only help our country but will ultimately work for world peace."

Ernest Bady, former member of the U.S. Navy and of the U.S. Marine Corps: "Back our President in his actions even if we do not always agree with him, for that will make us stronger before the eyes of the world. Stand firm in our relations with other lands as well as with each other. Last, but not least, follow the Golden Rule."

Do you note a similar vein of thought in these statements? To these men and women as, indeed, to most of us, the words Home and Country have a deep significance. Only through human efforts can high standards be maintained in either place.

As Expected Hoffa Gets Everything

By NORMAN WALKER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A din of horns, bells and sirens today greeted the nomination of James R. Hoffa for a new five-year term as president of the Teamsters Union.

John P. English, 72, veteran secretary-treasurer, touched off a 15-minute demonstration at the Teamsters convention by nominating Hoffa as "the man with the most guts in America."

"Do you know of a soul in this country with more guts?" English asked. "If you do, tell me. I'd like to know."

Hoffa had surrendered the rostrum to John P. O'Brien of Chicago, the union's first vice president, when time came for nominations. But Hoffa had to take it back temporarily to get the 2,000 wildly cheering delegates in order. "Knock it off," Hoffa said, while gaveling delegates back to their seats.

A band launched into "When the Saints Go Marching In" as Hoffa's nomination theme song.

English reminded the convention that Hoffa had won Teamsters fat wage increases and other gains while fighting off a steady barrage of court charges and investigations during the past four years.

The name of Milton J. Liss, president of a 4,500-member Newark, N.J., local, was put in nomination by James Lukens of Local 98, Cincinnati. Lukens recommended Liss as the candidate that would "give us the best chance to return to the house of labor."

This referred to the ouster of the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO three years ago on corruption charges.

Liss conceded in advance that he couldn't win, but insisted he was going to force a tedious roll-call showdown, anyway.

The Teamsters gave Hoffa greatly increased powers and financial resources.

Liss declared that if Hoffa uses these powers wisely, he'll be the greatest president the Teamsters ever had. "But if he misuses them, heaven help us."

High Altitude Balloon Fails

HOBBES, N.M. (AP) — A high-altitude balloon designed for the Defense Department's Project Banshee early today was cut free from its instrument package shortly after being inflated.

The 300-foot polyethylene balloon rose to about 8,000 feet before being deflated by ground radio control. It landed about 12 miles northwest of Hobbes.

Project spokesman said adverse surface winds were responsible for the balloon being cut loose.

Project Banshee is designed to test extreme high-altitude blast effects. Under the program, the balloons would carry the instrument package and a 500-pound charge of standard chemical explosive aloft for about 16 miles. The balloons are expected to drift westward from Hobbes to White Sands Missile Range, where the explosive will be detonated.

City Planning to Carry Out Welfare Rules

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — The city of Newburgh, defying the state, the federal government and its own welfare commissioner, prepared today to go ahead with a new set of strict welfare rules it says are needed to keep the city solvent.

The proposed new rules—widely hailed and widely condemned across the nation—are to go into effect July 15. A court action by the state of New York against the city appeared likely in the wake of a stormy hearing on the legality of the rules in Albany Friday.

The committee that conducted the hearing recommended that the State Welfare Board order Newburgh officials not to implement the 13 regulations.

Nine of the city's officials refused to testify at the hearing conducted by the State Social Welfare Board. The tenth, Welfare Commissioner John J. O'Donnell, disagreed with the others and testified he could not legally enforce 10 of the new rules.

Newburgh officials maintain the Hudson Valley city of 31,000—5 per cent of whom are on relief—needs the rules to maintain its fiscal balance. Critics call the plan illegal, inhumane and discriminatory against Negroes, who are predominant among the welfare cases.

In his testimony to the board, O'Donnell said 10 of the new rules violate state or federal law. He cited the city plan to deny aid to mothers of illegitimate children while on relief.

He also agreed with the state that under federal rules able-bodied men receiving federal aid may not be required to work on municipal projects, as the new rules provide. O'Donnell said he was considering resigning.

When the board said it was limiting testimony to that directly connected with Newburgh's welfare rules, City Manager Joseph Mitchell and eight other city officials refused to testify.

Mitchell said after the hearing the board "did not want to hear anything about Newburgh's social and economic programs." He told reporters the city will go ahead with its program as planned.

The Newburgh branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People issued a statement saying "racial discrimination is the motivating factor behind the Newburgh program."

Newburgh officials have denied this throughout, saying the problem is purely one of taxes. The city spends $900,000 a year for welfare—nearly $500,000 of which comes from federal or state aid.

Police Service Extraordinary

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Police service was extraordinary for a woman in distress at nighttime.

Hoffa Advises His Critics to Get Lost

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — James R. Hoffa today advised his critics to get lost. He said he's whipped 'em and they might as well admit it.

Hoffa, 48, a one-time Detroit warehouse hand, was elected overwhelmingly Friday to a second five-year term as president of the Teamsters, the nation's largest labor union, over only token opposition.

"Seriously," Hoffa remarked later, "I think Bobby Kennedy, my brother the President, the secretary of labor, and the supposed Senate select committee ought to recognize now that the time and effort they've put in trying to destroy the Teamsters have completely failed. It was a waste of time."

Hoffa referred, of course, to President Kennedy, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg, and to the Senate investigating Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

"From now on, they ought to leave us alone," Hoffa said. "They ought to quit fooling around and let us operate as a trade union and as Americans."

Hoffa said the charges and investigations piled up against him and the Teamsters during nearly four years have been no picnic, but he said he isn't nervous about them continuing.

Hoffa was asked about his goals for the next five years as head of the 1.7 million Teamsters union. He said that he wants to increase the union's membership to at least 2 million and return to "the house of labor," meaning the AFL-CIO. The federation expelled the Teamsters for corruption several years ago.

Hoffa said that another aim is to minimize strikes while reducing the accepted retirement age to 55 years after 20 years of work. The present Social Security retirement age is 65, but Hoffa has negotiated a 60-year retirement age in most Teamsters contracts.

The Teamsters convention adjourned Friday night after a flamboyant finale to the five-day session. The approximately 2,000 delegates engaged in a noisy and colorful election session whipped up by a jazz band and such slogans as "Go, go with Tony Pro" and "Bola, bola for Frank Matula."

Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano of Hoboken, N.J., and Frank Matula, of Los Angeles, re-elected respectively as union vice president and trustee, both have criminal records.

Hoffa, as everyone had predicted, was elected in a landslide. His only opponent, Milton J. Liss, president of Local 478, Newark, N.J., withdrew halfway through a tedious roll call vote. Only 15 delegates voted for him. Five delegates abstained. Eventually, Hoffa's re-election was made unanimous.

Hoffa emerged from the convention with possibly the broadest powers ever vested in a labor union leader and with the biggest salary, $75,000.

Untouchables Are Touched for $34.50

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ten members of a Negro teenage gang known as "The Untouchables" were fined $34.50, given 60-day suspended jail terms and put under $100 peace bonds in Municipal Court today.

One of the 10, Robert Munphy, 16, was bound over to Circuit Court on an assault with intent to kill charge in connection with the brutal beating of Jerry Walker, a 16-year-old Negro, on June 29.

Munphy testified today that he hit Walker with a thrown bottle.

Fourteen members of the gang, including several who appeared before the judge today, were bound over to Circuit Court in February on robbery, rape, burglary and assault charges in connection with a series of crimes in southeast Little Rock.

Nuclear Test Talks May Be at Dead End

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. authorities think the latest angry exchange of charges between the Soviet Union and the United States indicates the Geneva negotiations for a nuclear weapons test ban may be at a dead end.

Officially, however, the United States is asking the Soviet Union to breathe new life into the negotiations that have dragged on for almost three years.

In Moscow Friday, the Soviet government accused the United States of trying to "justify, in the eyes of public opinion, the resumption of nuclear tests."

The United States fired back a charge that the Soviet Union was dodging the central issue of the negotiations—whether the Soviet Union is now willing and prepared to reach an accord which would halt nuclear weapons tests under effective international controls.

The United States called on Moscow to reverse its position and "join the United States and the United Kingdom in their determined efforts to bring an end to the testing of nuclear weapons."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has sought to merge the nuclear test ban talks with a proposed new multilateral conference on general disarmament. President Kennedy has rejected this proposal.

The two powers appear to be engaged in a campaign to fix the blame for failure of the prolonged Geneva talks, but neither will admit the conference has come to a dead end. Technically, it still is in session.

The Soviet note was presented to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow Wednesday and made public by the Soviets Friday.

At about the same time the U.S. reply was announced, an influential Republican senator told the Senate the United States can no longer delay resumption of its own weapons testing program.

Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., said that during the almost three years that nuclear weapons tests have been suspended and the Geneva talks carried on, the Soviet Union may have gone ahead in secret on development of a neutron bomb—a completely new type of nuclear weapon.

Bridges is chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee. Officials say privately the United States is reluctant to resume nuclear weapons tests, fearing it would subject the country to severe criticism throughout the world.

No Reason Visible for Shooting

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Investigators tried to find out today what led a young Air Force mother to try to kill her two small children and herself Thursday morning.

Sheriff L. C. Young sent two deputies to Little Rock Air Force Base Infirmary to interview Airman 2.C. L. M. Coffey, whose wife, Joyce, 22, fatally shot her daughter, Sheila, 3, and herself. A son, Michael, 5, survived a bullet wound near the heart and apparently was recovering.

Officers had been unable to talk to the 23-year-old Coffey earlier because he was placed under sedation when he became hysterical after learning of the tragedy which took place at the off-base trailer home, where the family lived.

An Air Force spokesman said that since the shooting took place off base the investigation was being left in the hands of civil authorities.

The shooting was discovered when Michael came to the trailer door and cried to neighbor children that his mother had shot him and his sister.

That apparently was about two hours after the shooting had taken place.

The boy seemingly had been knocked unconscious by the shot, but revived. Jacksonville police said he was fully conscious when they arrived at the trailer.

Mrs. Coffey and the girl apparently were killed instantly. The mother muffled a pistol in a towel and then shot the children in the back and herself in the chest.

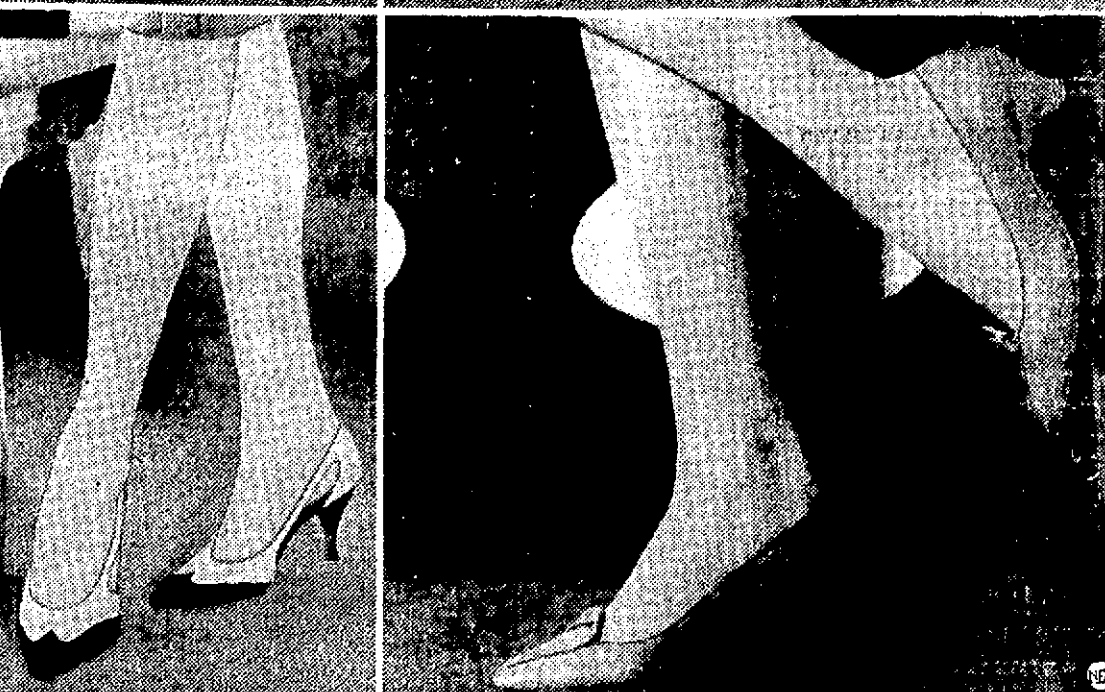

Coffey, whose home is Columbia, Tenn., was off duty but was at work on a spare-time construction job when the shooting took place.

Mrs. Coffey left no note. Neighbors said she appeared to be a happy wife and devoted mother.

Dr. Howard A. Dishough, the coroner, returned a verdict of murder and suicide in the two deaths.

SUSPENSETTE

A Short Short Story

THE BOY WHO TALKED TOO MUCH

By LESTER ARNO

Charlie Schenkenmeyer had been a problem from the very beginning. Charlie couldn't stop talking. As a baby he was compulsive about "Da-da." At first his parents marvelled at the wonder of it. Then, as he persisted, their wonder lessened and their nerves grew taut. Charlie's infancy was a contest between himself, his parents and the pacifiers they popped into his babbling mouth trying to shut it up.

At school Charlie spent hours in the principal's office hours after school, hours being punished. But he never stopped talking.

Even when he was alone Charlie talked. To himself. To the four walls of his room. To all outdoors when he was driven from the house.

He had many jobs. He sold things from door to door. Rather, he talked about the things he had to sell from door to door—magazine subscriptions, aluminum-ware, food freezer plans. Charlie sold very few. Charlie always talked himself out of every sale.

He caught on with a sideshow of a carnival. You would think that Charlie had found his milieu. But when he had the crowd warmed up and ready to buy the tickets and go into the tent, Charlie kept on talking. And the crowd stayed on in front of the tent a little too long and then drifted down the Midway without buying the tickets. Charlie was fired.

One day he struck up a conversation with an Army recruiting sergeant and because the sergeant was behind in his quota for the month, he listened to Charlie until Charlie had talked himself into enlisting.

The Army had no more kindly an ear toward Charlie than did the civilians in the world outside. After repeated stays in the guard-house and prolonged probings by the psychiatrists in Section 8, Charlie received a Discharge Without Honor.

This happened on Charlie's 25th birthday. Twenty-five years of monologues, less 18 months of babbling infancy. For no one had ever really listened to Charlie.

This gives one pause to reflect. Of the millions of words uttered in the hundreds of languages of this world, how many of these words are ever heard and understood and reflected upon?

But this is in the realm of the philosophers and has nothing to do with Charlie Schenkenmeyer. Charlie didn't complain. Charlie wasn't even aware that no one listened to him. It wasn't important to him. Talking for him was as natural a function as breathing. So Charlie breathed and talked and talked and breathed and went on talking.

Now this fable would be to no point and purpose if something didn't happen to Charlie because of his compulsive speech pattern. Charlie became a messenger.

He ran errands and chattered as he ran.

One day he was sent with some letters to an office in the Tower Building. Because he was busy talking to himself, he wandered into a radio studio by mistake and heard a man talking into the microphone.

For the first time in his life Charlie was silent.

He stood with his nose pressed against the glass opening in the studio door and watched and listened. The man talked and talked. Charlie listened and babbled himself in the cascade of words.

He caught on with the sideshow of a carnival.

Now, Charlie is happy and affluent. He's still talking. Every night—all night—over a radio station. Charlie is known as "The Diskless Disk Jockey."

No one really listens to him, but it doesn't matter. Neither do the non-listeners nor to Charlie.

The non-listeners, the "night people" are comforted by the sound of Charlie's voice. He is "company" for them.

But then, Charlie Schenkenmeyer had always been his own best listener.

Hearing for Woman in Fatal Shooting

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — A preliminary hearing for a Texas woman in the fatal shooting of her former husband has been postponed from 4 p.m. today to 10 a.m. Saturday.

Municipal Judge Milton Robinson made the change in the arraignment date of Mrs. Mary North, 32, of Grand Prairie, Tex., at the request of relatives of the dead man, Ernest W. Vaughan of near De Witt.

Vaughan is to be buried at Kenset today.

It was the second postponement of the arraignment. Wednesday it was postponed to Friday because Mrs. North broke into tears and was unable to gain her composure.

No formal charge has been filed against Mrs. North. Police said she related she shot the 49-year-old Vaughan after he wounded her present husband and mother-in-law Monday night. The shooting climaxed a dispute over custody of a 9-year-old son of Mrs. North and Vaughan, who were divorced in 1957.

Benton to Vote on Power Expansion

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — Benton voters will decide Aug. 8 whether they want a $650,000 expansion of the city-owned electric power plant.

The City Council set the election Thursday after receiving petitions bearing more than 1,000 names requesting referral of an ordinance to effect the expansion. Opponents contend the city can buy power more cheaply than it can produce it.

All Up to Legislative Council

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he probably would leave up to the Legislative Council the planning of a special legislative session on a construction program.

And the July 31 date both Faubus and Council Chairman Russell Elrod talked about for a pre-session council meeting indicated the General Assembly won't be called for around Aug. 1, as the governor had once said it probably would.

Faubus and Elrod, a state senator from Siloam Springs, will meet next Tuesday for a preliminary discussion.

Faubus said it wasn't his idea originally to have the Legislative Council plan for what should be done at the special session "but I like it and I think it is the only feasible manner to do it."

"Why if I called a special session and turned the whole problem over to them (the Legislature) it might take weeks to unravel it," Faubus said.

"Anyway, this is the purpose for which the Legislative Council was set up, and I think they can handle it wisely."

Faubus and Elrod talked by telephone today and arranged the Tuesday conference. Both mentioned July 31 as a possible date for the council meeting.

A special legislative session is in prospect because voters turned down Faubus' $60 million construction bond proposal and the Arkansas Supreme Court nullified a companion $14.5 omnibus expenditures bill.

Elrod said after his conversation with Faubus today that the governor had mentioned that $400,000 had been promised the cities.

Faubus made such a promise to a committee of the Arkansas Municipal League after the Supreme Court action on omnibus law, which contained such an item, but before the bond proposal election.

If this sum isn't appropriated then $500,000 previously allotted the counties should be withdrawn, Elrod said Faubus told him. Faubus called them both part of the same program.

Because of that commitment, Elrod said Faubus emphasized that all available money can't be appropriated for the State Hospital, the Children's Colony and other institutions.

The State Hospital has been considered to have the most pressing needs.

Under a tentative plan of Faubus and Elrod, all agencies which were to have participated in the omnibus law funds would be given an opportunity to restate their case to the Legislative Council.

Faubus said the only alternative to turning the matter over to the council would be "for me to sit down with a pencil and decide who was going to get what and I'm not about to do that."

Successful Bidder

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Elliot Co. of Ridgeway, Pa., is the successful bidder for a contract for construction of two 56,000 kilowatt generators at Beaver Dam. The firm bid $1,559,740. Bids were opened June 7 and the contract was awarded Thursday. The contract calls for delivery by Jan. 1, 1964. Beaver Dam is on the White River near Rogers.

DOROTHY DIX

The Answer to Loneliness

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm an avid reader of your column and feel certain I can depend upon your advice. When my husband died a year and a half ago I felt no other man could ever take his place but, as time goes on, the yearning for male companionship and security is desolating me. I'm 47, considered attractive, and have two children, one in high school, the other of marriageable age. Being an introvert, I shy away from social gatherings, so what can I do? The loneliness is becoming unbearable. — I'm So Alone

Dear Alone: I appreciate fully what you are going through for I was a widow eight and a half years. You're quite right, the loneliness is unbearable, particularly if you have been happily married. Before my first husband died he said, "If I go first, remember to live!" Though I would rather have died than lived, I forced myself to seek out friends, travel, and continue with my writing. It took a mighty lot of will power but I did it and, in the doing, met my present husband. And so, I say to you, "Remember to live!"

Dear Helen: A bad case of nerves left our little girl a problem child. She is subject to convulsions and scratches, pinches and hits her baby brother over the head with the nearest thing handy. She broke seven windows last winter, slam bangs chairs, throws everything out of drawers and pulls hair. Doctors say that, for the good of the family, she should be put in a hospital. I love her so much. She's a pretty little thing, just like a doll, with naturally curly brown hair and an angel face. She's a loving little thing when not acting up and would rather be with her family, especially her mother. The very thought of this worries me sick. What should I do? Would they take good care of her in the hospital? — Unhappy Mother

Dear Unhappy Mother: Rejected hospitals take patients with the idea of healing them. Send your little girl with that thought in mind. Evidently she needs medical supervision and treatment; otherwise the problem may well become serious as she grows older. The doctors are right. In fairness to your other children, act now for her own good as well as theirs.

Dear Helen: My marriage is on the rocks. Should I stick it out for the sake of the children? — Despairing Wife

Dear Despairing Wife: I am sending you my leaflet on Separation and Divorce.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available.

Redlegs Pad National Loop Lead to Five

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds pushed their winning streak to eight and padded their National League lead to five games Friday night by sweeping a two-night doubleheader with the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers 11-7 and 4-1.

They did it before a record NL night-game crowd of 68,742 at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

That shot Cincinnati 9 games ahead of the third place San Francisco Giants, who lost 3-2 to St. Louis. The Pittsburgh Pirates beat Milwaukee 6-5 and Chicago's Cubs whipped Philadelphia 9-3.

In the American League, the New York Yankees climbed back on top by walloping Boston 14-3 while the Los Angeles Angels dropped Detroit to second by a half-game with a 4-2 victory over the Tigers. Baltimore beat Kansas City twice, 6-2 and 5-10 and the Cleveland Indians rapped the Chicago White Sox 9-0. Washington defeated Minnesota 3-0.

The Reds came from behind in the opener, going ahead 4-3 on a two-run homer by Gene Freese in the third inning off Dodger ace Sandy Koufax (11-5) and then piling up four unearned runs in the fourth after a two-out error by Frank Howard. Rookie Ken Hunt (9-4) gave up three runs in the first inning but beat the Dodgers a second time, with relief help.

Freese also homered in the nightcap, after the Reds had nailed Stan Williams (8-8) for two runs in the fourth. Bob Purkey won this one for an 11-4 record.

The Cards won their first under new manager Johnny Keane by coming from behind with two runs in the ninth. Relief ace Stu Miller (6-2) was the loser while Lindy McDaniel (4-3) won it in relief.

Pittsburgh also came from behind in the ninth, on a two-run error by Felix Mantilla that beat Warren Spahn (8-11) in relief. Rookie Al McBean won his first after Hank Aaron belted in all of the Braves' runs with a pair of homers off starter Harvey Haddix.

Yankees Are on Top Thanks to 'Angels'

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's one heckuva parlay, but the New York Yankees are back on top in the American League race because the Los Angeles Angels have cast off their castoff label with a seven-game winning streak - and what might have been a record home run spurge.

Those fallen Angels, on the rise out of the deepest cellar the AL ever has had, dropped the Tigers more ways than one Friday night knocking them off 4-2 on Steve Bille's tie-breaking home run in the eighth inning and spilling Detroit to second place.

Bille's shot, off Terry Fox, the Tigers' previously unbeaten reliever, and a ninth-inning home run by Earl Averill gave the Angels 27 homers in 15 consecutive games. That had been the record AL total from 1941 until last month - when the Yankees bettered their 20-year-old mark by crashing 29 in 15 games.

The Yankees did some belting of their own Friday night, clobbering the Boston Red Sox 14-3 on 16 hits for their third straight success.

Baltimore took two from Kansas City, 6-2 and 5-0, and gained a tie for third place with the Cleveland Indians, who walloped the Chicago White Sox 9-0. Washington defeated Minnesota 3-0.

In the National League, Cincinnati's lead bulged to five games when the Reds swept a two-night doubleheader from the second place Los Angeles Dodgers 11-7 and 4-1. St. Louis beat San Francisco 3-2. Pittsburgh moved within a half game of third place with a 6-5 victory at Milwaukee and the Chicago Cubs thumped Philadelphia 9-3.

Right-hander Ken McBride (8-5) won his third in a row with a seven-hit job on the Tigers.

Elston Howard drove in four runs, three with his third home run in two games, and Bobby Richardson and Roger Maris each knocked in three runs for the Yanks. Bud Daley (7-10), the former Kansas City southpaw, was the winner. He gave up eight hits - one a seventh-inning homer by Jim Pagliaroni for the first run off Yankee pitchers in 25 innings. Gene Conley (3-7) was the loser.

Jim Gentile, the Orioles' ailing first baseman, broke up a 2-2 tie in the opener with a pinch-hit grand slam home run in the sixth inning off Ed Rakow (1-4). It was his fourth slam of the season, tying the AL record held by Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Rudy York, Tommy Henrich, Al Rosen and Ray Boone. Chuck Estrada (7-5) was the winner.

Skinny Brown (7-3) then shut out the A's on four hits in the second game. Doubles by Jerry Adair and Brooks Robinson triggered a two-run third inning that beat Jim Archer (6-47).

The Indians scored their first run in 24 innings on a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly in the first inning against Ray Herbert (6-8). Barry Latman won his eighth without defeat.

Rookie Joe McClain (7-7) gave the Senators' staff its second straight shutout. Pedro Ramos (5-10) was the loser.

Reputation of American Is Colorful

By ROBERT JONES

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - Chuck McKinley, the 20-year-old tennis whiz from St. Louis packs for home and the next Davis Cup round today but leaving behind a reputation of a colorful character the Wimbledon crowds want to see again.

Chuck left a gallant attempt to break Australia's virtual stranglehold of the Wimbledon men's singles tennis title. He lost Friday in just under an hour, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4, to Rod Laver, the Australian who became the third left-hander to win a Wimbledon since the war.

Chuck was the first native-born American to figure in a singles final since Tony Trabert won back in 1955.

Chuck never stood much chance against Laver, runnerup for the past two years. But he went down fighting with all guns blazing as the capacity center court crowd stood and cheered him.

And for the chunky little mathematics student at Trinity University, Tex., the cheers showed he had won his hard fight back after his suspension following the United States' inter-zone Davis Cup final series against Italy in Australia last winter.

But even if Chuck did give U.S. tennis prestige a boost from the low point of the past two years, there isn't much else in today's finals programs for Americans to cheer at - apart from those two trim Californians, Karen Hantze and Billie Jean Moffitt.

Karen, from Chula Vista and Billie Jean, from Long Beach were the only ones carrying the American flag today. They met the Australian girls Jan Lehane and Margaret Smith in the final of the women's doubles.

Glen Winchester

Glen Winchester, a member of the Dyke Springs Archery Club, arranged his vacation to shoot in the National Field Archery Tournament at Crystal Spring on Lake Ouchitza the past week and took all awards in his classification.

Glen won first place in the Field Round, the Animal Round, Hunters round and total overall score, finishing 200 points ahead of his nearest competitor. He was competing in the 100 class in the amateur division.

Winchester has been a member of the club for only a year, but in preparation for the big event, he has been shooting around 600 arrows daily for the past two months, thus "practice makes perfect."

Winchester's accomplishment is both a credit to the local club as well as the state, since only one other Arkansas archer finished in top place in another classification. This tournament drew over 1,000 contestants and many thousands of spectators and included every state in the nation.

Arkansas Paces

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)

Buster Cupit, a little-known player from Fort Smith, Ark., paced the field into today's third round of the $30,000 St. Paul Open Golf tournament, hopeful of warding off challenges from his tightly hunched competitors.

Cupit shot 67 to hit 133, 1 under par, at the end of 35 holes Friday. He was only a stroke up on Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., while hot-putting Dave Hill of Denver was at 135.

Pott, the hottest player on the tour at present after pocketing $5,600 in the past two weeks, began to gain favor as competition moved into the third round.

Jack Fleck, former National Open champion at 136, also is regarded as a strong contender.

Gene Littler, current National Open tilist, is five strokes off the pace. Defending champion Don Fairfield is eight shots back at 141.

"LET ME PRAY"

... 'Oh, Lord!' —
in simple words that are full of meaning. Let me say The Lord's Prayer every day with a fearless and grateful heart. With a sense of Divine concern for daddy, and mummy, and sister, and all our friends — let me ask that thine ear be open and that you will hear me, Father. Thou hast commanded me to come as a little child; to be humble as a little child; to have faith as a little child. Here I am, so please bless me and make me one of thine own. Bless our pastor, and our church and help us to grow in the grace and knowledge of God. With firm faith that sees beyond the failures of men — Father, you have let me pray."
